RICHMOND, VA., WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 14, 1884. VOL. LXV.

BIG DEMOCRATIC GATHERING.

THE CONVENTION.

Distinguished Representatives Present Meeting of the State Committee Last Night-Electoral Question.

The State Democratic Convention will meet at the Theatre at noon to-day for the purpose of electing delegates to represent the party in the National Convention at Chicago, July 8th, and to nominate presi-dential electors, and to transact other business of interest and importance. With a full delegation present from every city and county there would be 640 members of the Convention.

It is, however, a busy season of the year for farmers, and it is expected that the delegates present will not number more than about five hundred. The hotels were crowded with delegates and visitors last night, and more will come in this morning.

THE WORK.

The proceedings of the Convention will be interesting. For our Democratic people there can be no cut-and-dried programme. They have views of their own, and will express them in the proper way at the proper place and time.

It is not supposed that the delegates to Chicago will be instructed. The general feeling among centlemen here now is that Hanover.
